ECHOES of ARARAT

A COLLECTION OF OVER 300 FLOOD LEGENDS
FROM NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICA

Nick Liguzi

MORE THAN 300 FLOOD TRADITIONS FROM ALL OVER NORTH AND SOUTH AMERICA ARE INCLUDED ORGANIZED BY REGIONS BEGINNING IN CANADA AND PROCEEDING SOUTHWARD.

In Echoes of Ararat, author Nick Liguori explains that oral traditions of the Flood—and the survival of the few inside the final Ark—are even more prevalent than previously thought, and they powerfully confirm the truth of the Genesis account. This unprecedented work carefully documents hundreds of native traditions of the Flood—as well as the Tower of Babel and the Garden of Eden—from the tribes of North and South America. Learn what the Cherokee, Lakota, Inuit, Cheyenne, Navajo, Aztec, Guarani, and countless other tribes claimed about the early history of the world. Liguori also shares many evidences for the historical reliability of Genesis, and shows that the Genesis Flood account is not dependent on the Epic of Gilgamesh or other Near Eastern texts, as skeptics claim. Rather, it is the source of them, as they claim. Rather, it is the source of them, as they claim. Rather, it is the source of them, as they claim. Rather, it is the source of them, as they claim.

Nick Liguori is a civil engineer and an occasional researcher of biblical history and creation science. Nick has focused his research on the Book of Genesis and the Flood, including compiling a massive archive of references to the Flood from the histories and traditions of nations all over the world. Nick believes that a right view of God is critical to a right view of ourselves, and a right view of history is critical to a right view of God. Nick and his family live in Virginia.

The amount of research Nick must have done is staggering, but it doesn't read off! This remarkable collection of stories points readers to the undeniable truth of the Bible.
