Getting Started

Before you start creating animated numbers, you'll need to gather a few things:

- A copy of Photoshop Elements
- A digital image or photograph
- A text editor (optional)

Once you have everything you need, you're ready to get started!

Creating a New Animation

To create a new animation, open Photoshop Elements and create a new document. The size of the document will depend on the size of the animation you want to create.

Once you have created a new document, you can start adding your content. You can use a digital image or photograph as the background for your animation, or you can create a new layer and add your own text or graphics.

Animating the Numbers

Once you have added your content, you can start animating the numbers. There are a variety of ways to do this, but the most common method is to use the Timeline panel.

To open the Timeline panel, click on the Window menu and select Timeline. The Timeline panel will appear at the bottom of the Photoshop Elements window.

To create a new animation, click on the Create New Animation button in the Timeline panel.

A new animation layer will be created in the Timeline panel. You can use this layer to add your animation keyframes.

To add a keyframe, click on the Add Keyframe button in the Timeline panel.

A new keyframe will be created at the current time in the animation. You can use this keyframe to change the properties of your content, such as the position, scale, or opacity.

To change the properties of a keyframe, click on the keyframe and drag it to a new location on the Timeline panel.

You can also use the Timeline panel to adjust the duration of your animation. To do this, click and drag the edges of the animation layer in the Timeline panel.

Adding Effects

Once you have animated your numbers, you can add effects to make them more visually appealing. There are a variety of effects that you can use, such as:

- Motion blur
- Glow
- Drop shadow
- Bevel and emboss

To add an effect, select your animation layer in the Timeline panel and click on the Effects menu.

A list of effects will appear. Click on the effect that you want to add.

A dialog box will appear where you can adjust the settings for the effect.

Once you have adjusted the settings, click on the OK button.

Exporting Your Animation

Once you have finished creating your animation, you can export it to a variety of formats, such as:

- GIF
- MP4
- AVI
- SWF

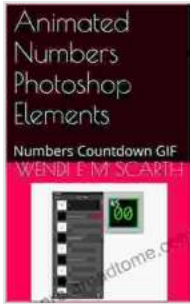

To export your animation, click on the File menu and select Export.

A dialog box will appear where you can choose the format and settings for your export.

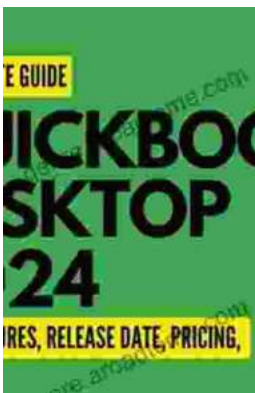

Once you have chosen the settings, click on the Export button.

Creating animated numbers in Photoshop Elements is a fun and easy way to add visual interest and engagement to your designs. With a little practice, you can create stunning visuals that will captivate your audience.
