In the depths of Rwanda's darkest chapter, amidst the unimaginable horrors of genocide, a flicker of hope emerged from an unexpected source: the music of violins.

Vultures and Violin, a heart-wrenching and inspiring book, tells the extraordinary story of Emmanuel Nkundabagenzi, a renowned violin virtuoso whose life was tragically shattered by the Rwandan genocide. During the 1994 genocide, Emmanuel witnessed the brutal murder of his family and close friends, forcing him to flee for his life.

In the aftermath of the genocide, Emmanuel found himself in a refugee camp, haunted by his memories and struggling to find purpose in a world that had been torn apart. It was in this desolate setting that he rediscovered his passion for music.

With the help of a few dedicated teachers, Emmanuel began teaching violin to young children in the refugee camp. As he shared his love of music with these traumatized souls, Emmanuel realized that music had the power to heal and unite in ways that words could not.

Vultures and Violin is a testament to the indomitable spirit of humanity. It is a story of survival, hope, and the transformative power of art. Emmanuel's journey is a reminder that even in the darkest times, the human spirit has an unyielding ability to find light and beauty.

This book is not only a compelling narrative, but also a profound meditation on the nature of evil, forgiveness, and reconciliation. Through Emmanuel's eyes, we witness the horrors of genocide and the unimaginable pain and suffering it inflicts.
